NOTE FOR: Deputy Director of Central Intelligence

FROM: David D. Gries
National Intelligence Officer for Narcotics

SUBJECT: Your Attendance at a NNBIS Executive Board Meeting on 9 August 1984

1. The Vice President is chairing the meeting to accept the report of the Joint Surveillance Committee on border interdiction. Nick Schowengerdt will brief the report, and Admiral Murphy will then present the reservations of various agencies:

- Treasury wants DOD to pay for P3As needed by Customs.
- Customs fears it lacks the resources to arrest additional traffickers turned up by additional surveillance.
- Coast Guard does not have enough cutters to handle additional traffic, and
- OMB wonders where the money will come from.

2. Good preparation for the Executive Board meeting would be a review of the memorandum I sent you after attending the Coordinating Board meeting. It appears to me that the two meetings will be rather similar.

3. Basically, there is not much in this for the Intelligence Community, except that we played a role in the preparation of the threat assessment portion of the Joint Surveillance Committee report. In fact, although DEA is given credit for the threat assessment, [redacted] of OIA bailed DEA out by rewriting the core of the paper.

4. Attached is the Joint Surveillance Committee report. As Von Raab pointed out in a handwritten note he passed me with a wink during the Coordinating Board meeting, it is not quite presented the way CIA does it. If pressed for time, you can catch the important points by reading the recommendations and conclusions only.
